

Signing of a framework agreement between AMDIE and CDG: A step further towards strengthening the public-public partnership for the country's economic and social development

Rabat, May 20, 2024 - A cooperation agreement was signed this Monday, May 20, in Rabat, between the Moroccan Investment and Export Development Agency (AMDIE) and Caisse de Dépôt et de Gestion (CDG). The framework agreement, signed by Mr. Khalid SAFIR, Director General of CDG, and Mr. Ali SEDDIKI, Director General of AMDIE, aims to strengthen strategic cooperation between these two key institutions of the Moroccan economy.

AMDIE, a key institution in supporting investors, promoting exports, and organizing sectoral events, and CDG, a major player in the collection, securing, and management of regulated savings directed towards profitable and growth-generating investments, are joining forces to promote economic development and the creation of quality jobs across the Moroccan territory.

The Framework Agreement establishes a partnership foundation aimed at promoting investment and implementing sectoral strategies and public policies at the territorial level. Key areas of this partnership include the promotion of industrial land, the organization of fairs and events, support for entrepreneurship, public-private partnerships, project contracting, financing and financial advice, support in digital transformation, IT infrastructure management, human resource development, and decarbonization.

This agreement marks the beginning of a promising collaboration and a new dynamic for Morocco's economic and social development. It symbolizes the joint commitment of both parties to strengthen cooperation and partnership links to stimulate investment, energize the national economy, and modernize the territories.
